BASIC PISTOL

This course is mainly used to acquire a basic muscle stereotype, habits for less experienced and novice shooters. This program is mainly about teaching the machine experience of safety habits and the basics of the so-called dynamic shooting - building blocks for further progress to more demanding tactical shooting techniques.

ADVANCE PISTOL

This course is intended for moderately advanced shooters who already have sufficiently fixed safety habits with the weapon and already have primary skills in targeted shooting and basic handling of the weapon. It serves mainly to master the extended practical skills in the field of so-called dynamic shooting and the transition to the incorporation of tactical habits, usable in self-defense and service situations.

PISTOL NIGHT FIGHTER

This is one of the most demanding courses, which already places the highest entry requirements on participants. Due to the very difficult exercises, carried out even in conditions of difficult visibility or complete darkness, it is necessary that the person interested in this course already has above-average skills with his weapon. The aim of the course is to get acquainted with special tactical procedures for conducting a "night" meeting and procedures acquired specific knowledge and skills for a similar type of armed confrontation, which in practice is one of the most complex and statistically one of the most numerous.

PISTOL TACTICAL

The aim of this course is to acquire non-standard skills for advanced shooters who in the past have already acquired machine handling habits and, due to the well-established safety principles, can already perform very demanding shooting exercises. These are focused primarily on the development of elements of the so-called instinctive shooting, the development of tactical behavior to obtain useful reactions, which in the event of a shooting confrontation should significantly increase the chances of survival.
